

that goal. This Member appreciates the efforts of the distinguished gentleman from Iowa (Mr. LATHAM) in introducing this bill and seeking to assist pork producers. However, the problem is that H.R. 169 simply builds on the watered-down price reporting provisions included in last year's omnibus appropriations bill. Livestock producers see the study as an excuse or cover for the lack of action on imposing mandatory reporting. This Member was very disappointed that mandatory price reporting requirements were eliminated during the conference. In some respects, the provisions which survived were worse than none at all. In passing the flawed one-year pilot study last year, it needlessly delayed confronting the real issue, suppressed timely price reporting and lessened the pressure to take meaningful action.

Although well-intentioned, H.R. 169 does nothing to overcome the underlying defects in the current price reporting pilot study. It offers convincing proof that you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

A great many of this Member's pork-producing constituents (and cattlemen too) believe that it is time to stop studying this issue and start instituting mandatory price reporting, numerous Nebraska pork producers have expressed concern that this well-intended legislation, in fact, could delay meaningful price reporting.

This Member intends to again support comprehensive and mandatory livestock price reporting legislation in this Congress that will offer transparency and a level playing field for all producers. That legislation should be enacted as soon as possible.

Mr. STENHOLM. Mr. Speaker, the last few years have been very difficult for the U.S. livestock industry. In addition to the recent drought, an epidemic of low prices has further erased producer equity. During these years, producers of beef, lamb, and more recently, pork have all experienced prices that are simply too low to endure.

Livestock products account for more than half the value of all our domestic agricultural production. Consequently, if we are to maintain a viable and stable rural America, we must pay particular attention to the livestock producers who help sustain those rural communities. When livestock producers suffer, their losses spill over to all the small, rural businesses that depend on their patronage.

Reflecting on this economic difficulty, many have questioned whether the prices currently paid to livestock producers reflect the true market-value of their products. As more and more animals are sold in "closed" trades, which are not included in reported average prices, the actual value of those remaining animals sold in open, "cash" markets has been cast into some doubt.

With this in mind, language was added to last year's Omnibus Appropriations bill, requiring a one-year pilot study of comprehensive, mandatory price reporting for beef and lamb. Now, this bill before us, H.R. 169, would simply add pork to that one-year study. Given the recent disastrous drop in pork prices, it is not difficult to understand why pork producers are anxious to have insights into the curious behavior of their markets.

While this pilot study does not begin to solve the problems facing U.S. livestock producers, it is a small step in the right direction. I hope that the information from this study will help us to decide if permanent price reporting would in fact result in more accurate markets for beef, lamb, and pork. It is logical and reasonable to settle that question once and for all, so we can consider whether further action is warranted. I encourage all members to support our livestock producers by voting for H.R. 169.

Mr. PETERSON of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. COMBEST. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Texas (Mr. COMBEST) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, H.R. 169, as amended.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. COMBEST. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks on the bill just passed.
